

MOTORCYCLE RACES IN DIXON JULY 4TH COME EARLY AND STAY LATE

CARE OF VETERANS BIG UNDERTAKING

INTERESTING STATISTICS GIVEN BY WAR DEPARTMENT CONCERNING REUNION.

DIXON MEN ARE CAMPING THERE Six Survivors of the Great Battle Left for the Camp This Morning.

The following official information concerning the reunion of the veterans of the Battle of Gettysburg which will be held at the great battlefield next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday will be of interest to many Dixonites inasmuch as six veterans from this city: Comrades Dey, Reid, Raymond, Gaul, Will and Ware left this morning to attend the fiftieth anniversary and reunion.

morning of that day which, by the To avoid as far as possible congesting the railroads at Gettysburg in bringing and taking away our guests the Camp will be opened, in complete readiness for the reception of veterans on Sunday, June 29, 1913, the first meal to be served being supper that evening and will continue open until the following Sunday, July 6, 1913, the last meal to be served being breakfast that morning, no one, under any circumstances whatsoever being allowed in the camp before nor after these dates.

The entire camp and all the arrangements are for veterans only. Under acts of Assembly of Pennsylvania and of the Congress of the United States, only Veterans of the Civil War may be provided food, shelter and entertainment within the Great Camp around the Battlefield; therefore, no woman, nor child, nor any man not such veteran, will be given such food, shelter or entertainment therein, and no veteran accompanied at Gettysburg by a woman or child, or man not such veteran, will be given any such food, shelter or entertainment therein for himself and them also, but only for himself alone, the above laws so prohibiting and therefore no sleeping, toilet or other arrangements that would make it possible for women or child ren to sleep or be fed in the camp, have, or will be made. Further, no veteran should bring to Gettysburg, any member of his family or other person for whom he will have to obtain food and quarters outside the camp, unless all arrangements therefor have first been made and secured by him for them before he or they come to Gettysburg.

Necessary Credentials

To the end that this Great Reunion may be enjoyed to the full by only those for whom Pennsylvania and likewise the National Government and her sister commonwealth, states and territories have intended and planned it, namely, the known Veterans of the Civil War, and only by him, Pennsylvania and the National Government, by the officers there detailed for the purpose, and before any entrance to or accommodations in the great Camp will be allowed or given will exact an authentic credential from each and every individual veteran showing him such to be, which must either be his honorable discharge, his pension certificate or a certificate of Service from either the governor of his state in which he enlisted (or from the Officer the Governor designates) or, if he was a Regular, from the U. S. War department, or, if he was a sailor or member of the Marine Corps, from the U. S. Navy department, or a certificate of Identification from a Commander of a Post of the Grand Army of the Republic, or from a Commander of a Camp of the United Confederate Veterans.

Big Figures

Every item connected with the celebration runs into startling figures when provision has to be made for 40,000 veterans. For example it was at first contemplated to spread tables at which all could be seated, but it was found that this would require 40 acres of ground, which would have to be leased from private owners. The tables alone would cost $75,000. Therefore tables 40 feet long will be established in the rear of each two rows of tents and connected with the kitchen. These will seat 20 on a side, with one at each

HUNGER OF FANS TO BE SATIATED

FIRST BALL GAME IN THREE WEEKS AT ATHLETIC PARK TOMORROW.

The management of the Dixon stars anticipates a very large attendance at tomorrow afternoon's game at Athletic park, when the fast Rockford Peppers will be their opponents. The Dixon fans have not had a Sunday game for three weeks, and therefore should be in the proper stage of "hunger" to want a game. The Rockford team is said to be one of the best in the Forest city and the Stars will be pushed to the limit to get the decision. The game will commence promptly at 3 o'clock, and as is the usual custom, ladies will be admitted free.

RAILROAD NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST

NORTHWESTERN PROTECTS EMPLOYEES IN NEW ORDERS RECENTLY ISSUED.

The Northwestern railroad company has issued orders to its trainmasters to prohibit the use of steel and wooden cars in the same passenger trains. Heretofore several of the local trains have carried the steel coaches, but wooden baggage, mail and express cars, and the company has realized that in case of an accident the heavier and stronger steel cars would crush the wooden cars easily.

Order New Engines

The Northwestern has recently received a number of monster new locomotives, larger than the class Z engines now in use on this division, and it is expected that the new engines will commence making their trial trips next week. The new models will be used on the Peoria branch between Nelson and Chicago.

Way Car Derailed.

Traffic on the Peoria branch was slightly hampered this morning by the derailment of a way car on the main track at Nelson. However, trains were sent around the derailed car, after the sidings had been cleared up.

UTLEY AUTOMOBILE HURTS STERLING MAN

FATHER BURNS OF ST. MARY'S CHURCH WAS INJURED FRIDAY EVENING.

Sterling, June 28—Special to Telegraph—Miss Ruth Utley, daughter of W. P. Utley of this city, last evening ran into and painfully injured Father Burns, rector of St. Mary's Catholic church, when in turning the corner at Fourth street and Avenue B, the automobile which she was driving struck the reverend gentleman and knocked him down and ran over him. Rev. Burns suffered severe bruises and abrasions, and also received a slight scalp wound. The automobile is the one which was damaged in an accident at Dixon recently, when it was driven into a curb.

LENNON IN CHARGE OF PROPHETSTOWN STORE

Bradley-Boynton Co. have made a change in their business, N. B. Stevens retiring from the firm and Paul Lennon assuming the management, assisted by Leo Blass of Dixon. It was just recently that Mr. Stevens became connected with the firm, but being a man used to dealing with business men more particularly he did not take kindly to the retail trade and took his leave, returning to Chicago. Mr. Lennon has made many friends since coming to town. He is a good mixer and a good salesman and always meets you at the front door. The firm is doing a good business.—Prophetstown Echo.

COUNTY IS IN GRIP OF WORST HEAT WAVE

DIXON FACTORIES SHUT DOWN AND WORKMEN LEAVE BANK BUILDING.

ABOUT 100 IN THE SHADE Hottest Day of the Year So Far—Many Deaths and Prostrations in the Larger Cities.

At 1 o'clock today the thermometer stood at 96 degrees. The latest bulletin, however, says that the government thermometer registered 98 degrees.

Dixon, with the rest of the middle west, is struggling feebly in the grip of the worst heat wave of the season, with the mercury near the hundred mark in the shade, several degrees hotter than it was yesterday. The forecast for tomorrow is continued heat with light south winds, with no cessation in sight. The heat wave will probably be with us for at least two days longer.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon the government thermometer showed 96 degrees in the shade, at 2 o'clock it was 98 and slowly climbing, and it will probably reach the 100 mark before the late afternoon brings relief.

Scores of deaths and hundreds of prostrations are reported all over the country.

Stop Work Here.

Work in several of the factories and almost all men working in the open were forced to quit work at the noon hour because of the heat. The foundrymen at the Grand Detour Plow shops stopped at noon for the day, the Clipper Lawn Mower plant shut down at the same hour and the workmen on the big Dixon National bank building were unable to withstand the sun's rays.

Many in Water.

The river was the friend of many hot and dusty "kids" as well as older folks this afternoon and the bathing beach at Assembly park was well patronized.

ASK EVERY CITIZEN TO HELP DECORATE

FOURTH OF JULY COMMITTEE WANTS CITY IN BEST GALA ATTIRE FRIDAY.

Every business man, every householder and every renter in the city of Dixon is asked to remember that this city will entertain thousands of visitors next Friday, Independence day, and accordingly the city should be in its very best dress. The Fourth of July committee, therefore, have asked that every citizen in Dixon decorate their homes that day, even if only to the extent of displaying Old Glory, while the business men are asked to use the national colors in profusion in putting the business section in gala attire.

Incidentally residents can help a great deal by cleaning up all rubbish about their homes, see that streets in front of their homes are cleaned, and in other ways give the city an air of cleanliness that will cause the visitors to leave the city with a favorable impression.

SCHOOL TREASURERS GET INSTRUCTIONS

REPRESENTATIVE OF STATE SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE HERE TODAY.

Fifteen of the twenty-two school treasurers of the county met at County Superintendent Miller's office this afternoon and listened to an able explanation of the new school law as regards the reports of the treasurers. W. Y. Ludwig of the state superintendent's office was present and explained the law, and also gave the visiting treasurers a short resume of the school history of Illinois.

ILLINOIS MAYORS OPPOSE THE VETO

REFUSE TO ASK GOV. DUNNE TO VETO UTILITIES MEASUREMENTS.

NEW OFFICERS WERE ELECTED Mayor Bennett of Rockford Is President—Dixon Mayor Not Present

Rockford, June 28.—Besides electing the new officers, the Illinois Mayors' Association in the final business session of its convention here, yesterday defeated by a vote of 14 to 10, a resolution that a message be sent to Gov. Dunne asking him to veto the public utilities bill.

Action on the veto resolution followed a lively discussion in which some of the visiting mayors did not hesitate to voice their opinion of the city council's in general. Plainly several of the mayors confessed their opinion that no board of aldermen in Illinois is competent to handle the public utility problem. The action that was finally taken is considered important and in order that there be no doubt as to the sentiment of the association, Mayor Bennett was asked that a roll call be taken.

The roll call resulted as follows: Against Veto Message: Bennett, Rockford; Bloomer, Keithsburg; Browder, Urbana; Hook, Chicago Heights; Hoover, Geneva; Robb, Jerseyville; Vickers, Harvard; Smart, Evanston; Jones, Galva; eubs, Savanna; Massion, Peru; Walsh, Morris; Kril, Beardstown; Doyle, LaSalle—14.

For Sending Veto Message—Platt, Sterling; Brown, Monmouth; Bradley, Galesburg; Fehrman, Elgin; Kendall, Farmer City; Martin, Mt. Carmel; Carlson, Moline; Clinch, Elmwood; Johnson, Paxton; Jones, Blue Island—10.

The following officers were elected:

President—W. W. Bennett, Rockford.

Vice Pres.—G. J. Johnson, Paxton.

Treas.—John S. Brown, Monmouth.

Secy.—A. G. Brown, Chicago.

Statistician—W. G. Adkins, Chicago.

Mayor Brinton of Dixon was not present at the meeting.

BOYS WHO THROW AT AUTOS TO BE FINED

POLICE DEPARTMENT WILL STOP CARELESS PRACTICE WITH ARRESTS.

The police department has received many complaints recently concerning the careless action of many boys about the city who have acquired the dangerous habit of throwing things at passing automobiles. Recently Mrs. Angier Wilson had a narrow escaped injury when a boy threw auto, and yesterday Dr. E. A. Sickels was covered with lime, which was thrown on him by some boys. The lime completely destroyed his shirt, and had it been thrown into his face would have undoubtedly caused him much pain. The officers have determined to stop this practice and if necessary will arrest some of the offenders.

TWO FUNERALS HELD FRIDAY AFTERNOON

REMAINS OF NATHAN UNDERWOOD LAID TO REST—WM. ERBES OBSEQUIES.

Short funeral services were said at the grave in Oakwood cemetery yesterday afternoon for Nathan Underwood, the pioneer Dixon miller, who died at Fall River, Mass., and whose remains were brought to this city for burial. Many friends of the deceased attended the services. Jas. M. Swift, attorney general of Massachusetts, a son-in-law of the deceased, and two sons of Ed Underwood of Minneapolis and Lawrence Underwood of Gary, Ind., accompanied the remains to Dixon to attend the services.

For William Erbes.

The funeral services over the remains of little William Erbes were held yesterday afternoon at the family home in west Dixon, Rev. Fisher officiating, and many friends attended and comforted the grief-stricken parents. The remains were taken overland to Red Oak cemetery, northeast of Walnut, where burial took place this morning.

JUDGE ORDERS LEVY OF A SPECIAL TAX

JUDGE FARRAND COMES TO THE RESCUE OF UNION DRAINAGE COMMISSIONERS.

Late yesterday afternoon Judge R. S. Farrand of the circuit bench came to the rescue of the commissioners of Union Drainage District No. 1 of Harmon and Marion townships, whose predicament was exclusively announced in the Telegraph last evening, and issued an order giving them the power to levy a special supplemental assessment to complete the work, which Judge O. E. Heard, sitting in the Lee county circuit court a year ago, ordered performed.

Thus the peculiar situation of being ordered by one court to make certain extensions in their drainage system, and being denied the right to levy certain taxes by another court, is relieved and the commissioners will be able to go ahead with the work which has been ordered and outlined.

TWO LOCAL PLANTS TO USE ELECTRICITY

ROPER AND GOSSARD FACTORIES WILL BE OPERATED ON ELECTRIC POWER.

VAN BIBBER PROVIDES PUBLIC PLACE OF REST

COMMISSIONER WILL OPEN THE CITY HALL JULY 4—ELECTRIC FANS AND ICE WATER.

Commissioner J. D. Van Bibber gives notice to the general public through the columns of the press that the city hall will be open to the public all day the Fourth of July. There will be plenty of electric fans and gallons of ice water. The building is a splendid place to rest and hundreds of tired people will quite likely take advantage of Commissioner Van Bibber's generous offer and use the city hall for a meeting place and a place to rest during the many events on the holiday's program.

Commissioner Van Bibber will be one of the city's officials who will be extended a vote of thanks by hundreds of people at the close of the greatest Fourth of July celebration Dixon has had for many years.

REBELS KILL 1000 IN CITY OF DURANGO

VICTIMS MET HORRIBLE DEATHS AT HANDS OF MURDEROUS SOLDIERS.

Mexico City, June 28—Special to Telegraph—One thousand soldiers and civilians were slaughtered by rebels when the city of Durango fell into the hands of the insurgent forces. Many of the victims of the murderous vandals were prominent in business and social life. Looting was general and horrible brutality is reported. Many men and women were tortured to death when they refused to produce their wealth.

CAN NOT INSTALL LIGHTS BY FOURTH

INABILITY TO GET BRACKETS IN TIME HAMPER UTILITIES COMPANY.

It will be impossible for the Illinois Northern Utilities company to install any more of the ornamental lights in the business section of the city by July 4, inasmuch as the foundries which make the patent compensating brackets are so far behind with their orders now that they can not guarantee delivery of the thirty-two brackets needed here before July 14th. However, the company will illuminate the lights that are now in during the holiday period and will install the additional brackets as soon as possible.

Mrs. Dan Blackburn, who has been seriously ill and who now is at the home of her parents in Sterling, is reported to be in a critical condition.

THE CHICAGO LADIES ORCHERTRA WILL BE A NOTED ATTRACTION

As music is one of the chief attractions this year on the Assembly program, perhaps the chief attraction of the musical program will be the Chicago Ladies' Orchestra. This orchestra ranks as one of the foremost musical attractions in the country. It is composed of eight members of musical ability, capable of playing with the best musical organizations in America. While the selections by the full orchestra are of sufficient variety and novelty, the programs are enriched by violin, flute, vocal solos, string ensembles and the

APPEAL TO ALL INVENTORS

Story of One Woman's Suffering That Surely Should Stir Them to Immediate Action.

Inventors are requested by suffering telephone patrons to exercise their ingenuity on a telephone booth sliding door that will really slide. Heading the petition is the name of a woman who had a curious experience in a drug store booth.

"There are two booths in that store side by side," she said. "They are about as big as match boxes and are open at the top, so when there is a full in street noises the conversation in each can be heard in the other. One day, when listening to a long and interesting communication from the friend I had called up, I heard a man in the adjoining box ask for the number of our own telephone uptown."

"Presently he said, 'Can't you get them, central?'"

"Of course central couldn't get us, for I learned afterward that not even the maid was home, so he rang off and left the booth."

"I was most anxious to detain him and learn his message. I insulted my friend for life by saying, 'I can't listen to any more now,' but I might just as well have let her finish, for I couldn't get out of that booth. I pulled and tugged at the door, but it wouldn't budge. Finally a drug clerk let me out, but the man had got away by that time, and I don't know to this day who he was or what he wanted to tell us. Imagine having to go through life with a mystery like that unsolved. The telephone company cannot equip their booths with movable doors any too soon, I think."

SHOWED SCENES OF CRIMES

Parisian Burglar Took Magistrate on Tour and Pointed Out Residences of His Victims.

A man named Rene Foerschler, aged twenty-nine, who is in the Sante prison (Paris), awaiting trial on a charge of burglary, recently wrote to M. Poncet, the magistrate in charge of his case, confessing to 205 other burglaries. The magistrate at first refused to believe him, whereupon the prisoner offered to take him on a personally conducted tour of the scene of his exploits. The other morning, therefore, M. Poncet, the prisoner and two policemen set out in a cab for a drive round the streets of Paris. In the course of the day Foerschler pointed out thirty-two houses at which he had committed burglaries. The following day the experiment was repeated, and the scenes of forty-two other robberies were pointed out. The two next days, also, the magistrate resumed his task. Foerschler has a wonderful memory. He pointed out the different houses without hesitation and even remembered little details, as, for example, that such and such a house formerly had no carpet. He affirms that in the course of his career he has stolen 900 watches, 1,432 earrings, 192 silver plates, 32 gas fittings, 361 tie pins and 93 gold brooches.

Diseases of Metals.

Metals suffer from contagious diseases analogous to those living beings. Among these diseases one of the most striking is that called "tin pest." Sometimes a block, a plate, or model of tin attacked by this disease crumbles and falls into dust, and sometimes warty protuberances appear on the surface of the metal. Various other metals suffer from a disease that manifests itself by a spontaneous recrystallization. The most remarkable cases occur with lead and hard-drawn brass. These diseases are not due, as has been thought, simply to moisture. Temperature plays a part in producing them. The most extraordinary fact, perhaps, is that the "tin pest" is capable of spreading by contagion.—Harper's Weekly.

Ideas in Heating.

A church is successfully heated in Nuremberg by a large number of small units. A long tube heater is placed near the floor in front of the seat and along the back of the following pew, which acts as a foot warmer. The electric heating tube is a three-inch iron pipe which contains a smaller tube wound with resistance wire. At each pew is a switch for cutting out the heater, and all the separate wires from the heaters run to connection boxes placed at different points under the floor. A perforated iron foot rest runs along above each heater. The church has a seating capacity of 1,200 and the length of pews is 1,750 feet in all.

HIT RACE SUICIDE THEORY

Racine Woman, at Chautauqua, Challenges Roosevelt Attitude.

Racine, Wis., June 28.—Mrs. J. Redding Cole of Racine, in an address at the Chautauqua, protested against Col. Roosevelt's race suicide theories.

"Where," she said, "are we to furnish food for 2,000,000 underfed children? It may be immoral to curb the birthrate, but where is the morality in furnishing more children for the sweatshops—to toil and hunger for the things they cannot obtain?"

"We are sick of the argument of Colonel Roosevelt. Motherhood must be limited if the child is to be fed and reared as the American child should. If that be treason, make the best of it."

TAR GUILTLESS OF CHARGE

Report That American Killed Belgian Is Denied.

Antwerp, June 28.—A report was in circulation here that an American bluejacket, while on shore leave with a party of shipmates from the battleship Illinois, during a quarrel struck and knocked down a Belgian named Balthazar Heinemann, who died of a fractured skull.

Commander Lloyd H. Chandler, in command of the Illinois, immediately started an investigation. He said the statement that an American bluejacket had killed the Belgian was wholly without proof. The city authorities of Antwerp have taken no action.

JOHNSON SAFE IN CANADA

Negro Pugilist Cannot Be Brought Back to United States.

Chicago, June 28.—All efforts on the part of the government to force "Jack" Johnson to return to the United States circuit court of appeals will probably be dropped. Charles F. De Woody, head of the department of justice at Chicago, received a telegram from Washington saying that it was the belief of the department that nothing could be done to force the fighter's return.

"The department has been in communication with the Canadian government on the question of the enforcement of the 'undesirable citizen' clause law," said Mr. DeWoody, "and I understand the reply to have been that it could not be made to apply in this case. The law, as I now understand it, is to prevent undesirable citizens from entering Canada as a place of refuge, or with the intention of taking up their residence there."

Acquitted of Killing Husband.
Memphis, Tenn., June 28.—A jury in the criminal court here acquitted Mrs. Margaret Schleber for her killing her husband, August Schleber, last March.

Do you ever figure out what you would bring in money if sold at "face value," that is, if the component parts of your body were weighed and measured by a purchaser as "raw material?" Well, a patient German scientist has figured it all out, and here is the result:

"A man weighing 150 pounds comes to about $7.50. He finds in his body about two and a half dollars' worth of fat; while of iron, so essential to health and vigor, he discovers hardly enough to make a nail an inch long. But there is plenty of lime, enough to whitewash a good-sized chicken-house. Of phosphorus he finds enough to put the heads on two thousand two hundred matches, and there is magnesia enough to make a good fireworks piece for the Fourth of July. There is enough albumen for one hundred hen's eggs, and a small teaspoonful of sugar and a goodly sized pinch of salt."

Love and the Liner.

A sentimental young lady from town was on the steamship quay, where she saw a young girl sitting on a trunk in an attitude of utter dejection and despair.

"Poor thing," thought the romantic young lady, "she is probably alone and a stranger! Her pale cheeks and great, sad eyes tell of a broken heart and a yearning for sympathy."

"She went over to the traveler to win her confidence."

"Crossed in love?" she asked sympathetically.

"No," replied the girl with a sigh, "crossed in the 'Frolic,' and an awfully rough passage, too!"

PERFECT CONFIDENCE

DIXON PEOPLE HAVE GOOD REASON FOR COMPLETE RELIANCE.

Do you know how—
To find relief from backache;
To correct distressing urinary ills;
To assist weak kidneys?

Your neighbors know the way—
Have used Doan's Kidney Pills;
Have proved their worth in many tests.

Here's Dixon testimony:

N. W. Beal, 620 College Ave., Dixon, Ill., says: "For a long time I had kidney trouble and it showed itself in various ways. I had rheumatic twinges and my back was stiff and lame and when bending over I could hardly straighten. When I was suffering intensely I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Leake Bros. Co's Drug Store. They gave me wonderful relief in a short time and I still use them, keeping my kidneys in good shape. All I said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago holds good and I am glad to confirm that statement."

Car Men Had Business Instinct.

A trolley car was lost in one of our big western cities for a whole afternoon. It belonged on one of the short runs in the suburbs and had been put in care of an entirely new, but businesslike motorman and conductor.

All went well until noon. After that nothing could be heard of the car. Telephone calls to the car barns revealed nothing, as did frantic calls from the main office to points along the car's course.

In the evening, however, the smiling motorman and conductor pulled the car into its proper place.

"Where in the world have you been all afternoon with that car?" yelled the angry transportation manager.

"Well, we ran all morning to Brook street, but business was poor, so we concluded to go out after more trade, and we got it, too. We went over to the business street that runs through the center of town, and had all we could do all afternoon."—National Monthly.

Shakespeare in the Bible?

And now King James' version of the Bible is to be dragged by the heels into the Bacon-Shakespeare controversy. Sir Edward Durning-Lawrence is doing the tugging in of the scriptures into this vexed controversy. He says in the edition of 1611 we have the "horned sheep," the "P. A. Cornuto," we have "shake a lance at ignorance," we have the peacock with three feathers in his tail after the fashion of the prince of Wales. We have the word "shake" and "spear" in the same place and in the same psalm in the Geneva Bible issued the year before Bacon was born. "Shake" was the forty-sixth word, and "spear" only two further down in the Great Bible published more than a score of years before, and therefore the coincidence in the version of 1611 does not seem to have so much significance.

RINGWORM IN RED SPOTS ON FACE

Rough Crust on Top. Continually Worse. Spread Over Face and Legs. Terrible Itching and Burning. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured Completely.

Stratford, Iowa.—"Three years ago this winter my seven year old son had ringworm on the face. First it was in small red spots which had a rough crust on the top. When they started they looked like little red dots and then they got bigger, about the size of a bird's egg. They had a white rough ring around them, and grew continually worse and soon spread over his face and legs. The child suffered terrible itching and burning, so that he could not sleep nights. He scratched them and they looked fearful. He was cross when he had them. We used several bottles of liniment, but nothing helped. I saw where a child had a rash on the face and I decided to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment about one month, and they cured my child completely. I cannot be thankful enough for it is terrible if a child's face is all broken out as ours was." (Signed) Mrs. Barbara Prim, Jan. 30, 1912.

Cuticura Soap is best for skin and hair because of its extreme purity, delicate yet effective medication, and refreshing fragrance. It wears to a wafer and gives comfort and satisfaction every moment of its use, for toilet, bath and nursery. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Sample of each free, with 32-p. skin book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

EARLY DAYS OF YALE

WHEN THE FAMOUS COLLEGE WAS IN ITS INFANCY.

Wonderful Changes Have Been Made, as the World Moved On—Athletic Field a Thing Unknown to the Founders.

On Saturday, November, 23, at New Haven, the Yale and Harvard football gladiators matched their wits and stamina in a struggle for victory before forty thousand persons of both sexes waving flags and shouting at the top of their lungs. It is a pity that Dr. David F. Atwater of Springfield, the oldest living graduate of Yale, class of 1839, could not see the performance, for there was nothing like it in his days at college. The spectacle would be too strenuous for the old gentleman, however, and as for getting to the field of battle and returning safely to his home without physical hurt or mental collapse, it is not to be thought of as feasible at his age. Football as a visual diversion is a game for youth and for vigorous middle life.

When Dr. Atwater was at New Haven the students were not athletic. What they spent on college sports would scarcely have filled a blind man's cup with coppers. The doctor remembers a gymnasium, but it was very small, the apparatus was meager, and the students made little use of it. One does not have to go further back than the late seventies at Harvard to remember that the gymnasium of that comparatively modern day was a circular brick building not much larger than a prosperous farmer's smoke-house; ridiculously primitive and inadequate was the equipment according to latter day notions, and the superintendent was a stout gray little man who could spar and fence a bit, but that was about all.

To return to Yale in 1834-39, physical progress seems to have been demanded only when "town" and "gown" fought together, and brute strength was then more in evidence than skill in boxing and wrestling. The college leader in such affairs was known as Major Bully, the biggest and sturdiest man in his class, according to Dr. Atwater. Yale men were much given to debating and literary expression. "Lincoln," "Brothers in Unity" and "Callopo," were some of the societies equipped with libraries and bristling with logicians, the rivalry between these organizations being intense. Amusements of any kind were limited, and from our point of view they were tame enough. The New Haven & Hartford railroad had not been built when freshman Atwater entered college; so there was no running down to New York to see the sights and to dissipate. The stage coach and the canal to Northampton afforded the only means of transportation. Professor Benjamin Silliman was arguing that it would never be possible to build steamships powerful enough to cross the Atlantic.

The college buildings then consisted of a row of brick dormitories, a plain chapel, an atheneum and lyceum building in which the recitations were held; round them all ran the old wooden "Yale fence." Entrance examinations were oral and exclusively classical. Print and tinder supplied ignition; imported friction matches, few in number, were regarded as dangerous. Dr. Atwater remembers a tremendous demonstration of livery stable men against the projected New Haven & Hartford railroad because it would injure their business. Such was Yale in the old days in the memory of an alumnus still living.—New York Sun.

Possum Paradise.

Loris is the native heath of the opossum. Nowhere else does he abound so plentifully or thrive so well. It is here that the Georgia people get their fine specimens when they wish to entertain President Taft at a possum dinner. Folks come from North Carolina here to hunt them, and our market supplies Delmonico's and St. Regis and many other famous caravansaries.

As the canvassback duck and the diamondback terrapin are to Baltimore, so is the possum to Loris. The Maryland duck feeds on wild celery, which grows on the flats of the headwaters of the Chesapeake bay. It is this that gives them their fine flavor, just as peanuts and acorns flavor the razor-back hog and produce the Smithfield ham.

The Loris possum feeds on chickens, nice young fat chickens, such as only Loris has, and many of them are from the postmaster's private crop.—Loris News.

Wedding Ends Forty Years' Yiff.

Forty years ago George R. Collingsworth, a wealthy manufacturer of New York, sixty-five years old, and Mrs. Zella S. Van Spoorh, sixty-three years old, were sweethearts in Yonkers. The day for their wedding had been chosen and then a quarrel about something that both have kept a secret all these years, but which both say was trivial, estranged them. They have just been married. Both had been married since their engagement was broken 40 years ago.

RED HAIR ALWAYS DISLIKED

With the Exception of the Romans, Ancient Peoples Had Strong Aversion to It.

Red is the fashionable color of woman's hair just now, but in many periods and countries to have red hair meant to test the depths of misfortune, even of death.

Prejudice against red hair runs back even to Egyptian times, for in that land of decided opinions and strong prejudices it was the custom to burn alive some unfortunate individual cursed with red hair, so it was decidedly uncomfortable to have red hair in Egypt, as no one knew whose turn would come next.

That the Chinese shared this prejudice against red hair is proved by their epithet for the English, whom they called "red-haired barbarians" or "red-haired devils."

The great exception to this rule among ancient nations is the Romans, for since the time of Nero they have praised red hair in the highest terms. They preferred a dark red, almost brown, such as we term auburn, and modern Romans share this liking. It is said that among the patrician families of Rome and Florence there is an abnormally large number of red-haired women. Modern Greeks share this predilection with the Romans and they lighten the reddish effect of the hair by wearing dull gold ornaments.

One of the most frequent causes of the prejudice against red hair in Christian countries undoubtedly goes back to the tradition that Judas, the betrayer of Jesus, had red hair, and most of the artists paint him thus. Shakespeare refers to this in "As You Like It," when Rosalind says of Orlando, "His very hair is of the dissembling color," and Celia answers: "Something browner than Judas."

The Brahmins were forbidden to marry red-haired women and, as has been said: "The populace of most countries, confounding moral with esthetic impressions, accuse red-haired people of various shortcomings."

Besides the old tradition of Judas having been red-haired adding to create the prejudice existing in many lands the fact of the feeling against red hair in England is set down to the red-haired Danes, who could not be regarded save as invaders and barbarians.

That Furrowed Brow.

It seems almost as if we modern folk studied deliberately to appear ill tempered in the eyes of our fellow-beings, fearing lest a relaxation from our habitual frown should lower us in the esteem of those we meet. Yet surely the opposite should be the case. The sour expression is that of the beaten woman, the failure. The well-to-do, the successful, should, of all people, be the happier.

There is nothing undignified in a smile; one should not be ashamed of a light heart and a clear conscience. But the world has created a tradition that the cares of responsibility must be marked by a furrowed brow. It finds the women with a merry laugh, in business hours certainly, a woman to be treated with caution. "This woman laughs," says the world, in effect; "she cannot be a sound woman; she is too frivolous."

Dull, sour and unbending, the world, our world, plods on its way, hoarding its smiles for fear of its dignity, until at last it forgets to smile altogether. Generations of scowling faces have taught us to suspect the smiling ones. We fear their owners are endeavoring to ingratiate themselves with us for no good purpose. To regard things cheerfully is to betray a lack of solidarity and worth.

Wife Couldn't See the Idea.

That few men know how to make the most of their time was the assertion of Governor Deneen. To prove his point the governor told of friends of his who were moving.

The wife conceived the notion that she might save time by wearing on each trip to the new home one of her numerous coats and leaving it. It would be easier than packing them. She was surprised, however, to find, on the occasion of one visit to the future dwelling, her husband removing his clothes.

"Why, John, what on earth are you doing? Are you going to bed?"

"Of course I'm going to bed," said John. "I'm going to get my clothes over here like you are yours. Now, then, you see, I will just go over to the house and get on another suit."

Needless to say his wife soon settled that.

Caddy's Mean Suggestion.

Mrs. R. H. Barlow, the eastern champion, said at the Cape May Golf club, nodding toward a certain man:

"Yes, he is a very poor player. Even his caddy, for all his liberal tips, scorns him."

"One afternoon he made a wretched fizzle and tore up a sod. Lifting this sod in his hand—it was about a foot square—he said to his caddy ruefully:

"What on earth am I to do with this, John?"

"If I was you," the boy answered, "I'd take it up to the hotel to practice on, sir."—New Orleans Daily States.

His Car.

"And what is that little building over there?" asked the visitor to Tompy's place.

"That? Oh, my wife calls that the garage," said Tompy.

"Oh—what is your car?" asked the visitor.

"Oh, that's a mirage," said Tompy. —Harper's Weekly.

Moslem Women in Future Life.

"Are women admitted to paradise?" is a question that is often answered in the negative. We find, however, more than one passage in the Koran that distinctly speaks of a future life in paradise for women. The most often quoted is the one promising the faithful that he will meet in paradise besides his own earthly wives seventy-two hours—not an attractive prospect for the poor women, who have suffered enough in this life from the humiliations of polygamy! But in the fourth Sura we find the following more definite statement: "But whose doeth good works, whether he be male or female, and is a true believer, they shall be admitted into paradise, and shall not in the least be unjustly dealt with."—Life in the Moslem East, by Pierre Ponardine.

Turkish Soldiers Without Fezes.

For the first time, we read, the Turkish soldier is going to war without the fez. Mahmud II, when he changed the uniform of his army, tried to introduce the shako, but the opposition of the soldiers was too strong for him. The fez is certainly a poor covering for men on active service; for even the change of its color to khaki did not get over its feebleness as a protection against sun or bad weather. Hence the headshawl twisted some time ago to be worn round the fez. The Turk's devotion to the fez is clearly explained by Duckett Perelman: "The prejudice against the hat rests on a religious basis. If the ramaz (form of prayer) is rightly performed the forehead must touch the ground. The brim of a hat or the peak of a cap would prevent this."

Cast-Iron Magnets.

The difficulty of making good cast-iron permanent magnets has been overcome by a very simple process. The iron casting, after being machined to the required dimensions, is heated in a gas furnace until the iron can just be handled without distortion through softening.

It is then plunged in a chemical bath, which removes superfluous materials and leaves the iron clean. Finally, it is magnetized by means of electric coils.

In strength of field, cast-iron magnets are from ten to fifteen per cent. inferior to those of steel, but they are equal in magnetic permanence, and cost, for intricate patterns, only one-half as much as steel magnets.

SON OF ED BARTH
DIED ON TUESDAY

EIGHT YEAR OLD LAD PASSED AWAY BEFORE ARRIVAL OF HIS FATHER.

Miss Barth of East Second street received word this morning of the death of her nephew, Charles Barth, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barth of Minneapolis, Tuesday evening. The boy was eight years of age, and passed away before his father, who has been engineer at the Dixon cement plant, reached him. The funeral was held Thursday.

end, and with the meal hours extending over an hour and a half for each all can be served without crowding or hurry.

Fourteen refrigerator cars will be required to bring the meat and other perishable food and serve as store houses during the Encampment. It will require three car loads of ice cream to furnish all that will be supplied on the Fourth. The amount of fresh beef contracted for is 130,000 pounds, with 20,000 pounds of fresh pork, 15,000 pounds of bacon, 20,000 pounds of corned beef, 165,000 pounds of flour, 180,000 pounds of potatoes, 10,000 pounds of onions, 14,000 pounds of coffee, and 35,000 pounds of sugar.

There will be two basins supplied for each tent, and 30,000 pails will be required for these alone. Each tent will require 56 pails, making over 300,000 for the 5,500 tents. There will be 70 miles of ditches around the tents and 70 miles of main ditches connected with these making altogether 140 miles of trenches.

A brigade of 1,600 cooks will be required to prepare the rations. At the head of these will be cooks from the Regular Army, trained in preparing great quantities of food and in handling the culinary force. Not enough cooks could be spared for the camp and it is expected to bring in cooks who have had experience in National Guard Encampments and others of similar experience. The head cooks will arrive June 27 and begin their preparations, and other cooks June 28; the work of issuing rations will commence with supper, June 29. The washing of the dishes will be an immense job and will be provided for by a crew especially selected and assigned to the work.

Supper, June 29, 5:30 to 8:30 p. m. Estimated number of guests 5000. Beefsteak, fried onions, sliced tomatoes, fresh bread, butter, coffee, sugar, salt, pepper, vinegar. Note: The number at this meal being very uncertain, the menu is intended to cover short order service, and supper will be served at a small number of kitchens at convenient parts of the camp. For this meal, and supper, June 30, service will be until 8:30 p. m., so that some of those apt to be late arriving, may get something to eat.

REPAIR AND MAINTENANCE

OF EARTH ROADS
 If you look at the ordinary country road after a shower you will see the small puddles along the wheel-ruts and sometimes larger pools. This water stays on the road surface because it cannot drain away into the side ditches. If you look closely you will see side ditches which have grown up with bushes and weeds in many cases, and which are so far from the traveled part of the road that the rain water does not drain into them. That part of the roadway where the wagons travel is called the traveled way. To prevent water from standing on the traveled way the road should be raised in the center and should gently slope into the broad, shallow ditches. It is then said to have a crown. If it is ten feet from the center of the road to the side ditch, the surface at the side ditch should be at least ten inches lower than it is at the center where the horses travel. The road then has a ten-inch crown. The road that falls on a road properly crowned will run quickly to the side and not soak into the surface or form pools. The side ditches for the surface water should run parallel to the right of way and should be open at every low point so that the water can run out of them into neighboring brooks or streams.

If the ditches merely collect water from the road surface and it can not run away, large pools will be formed along the roadside, which will gradually soak into the soil beneath the road and make it so soft that the wheels of wagons will cut thru the road surface and soon destroy it.

Sometimes water runs from land along the road into the road and forms a little stream down the wheel tracks or in the middle where the horses travel. When driveways into farm yards are built across the side ditches they frequently form channels for water from the farm yard to run into the road. The pipes under driveways become clogged with rubbish or leaves and the water can not longer run away. If the driveways that stop the ditch water were rebuilt so that no pipes were necessary and the ditch could be left open, much trouble from surface water is stopped.

Sometimes a road runs across low ground or through a swamp where the road can not be drained by side ditches alone. If the road were built higher like a railway embankment across such low land, it would be hard and dry. Sometimes a road passes through what is called a cut. This is a place where the earth has been dug out so that the road can go over a hill without being too steep. The water which always flows quietly under the ground on hillsides is known as ground water. In road cuts such water sometimes makes the road very muddy, and the road then needs what the roadbuilders call under-drainage. A good kind of under-drainage is a trench to go along under the side drain and about three feet deep and a foot and a half wide. In this trench a pipe is laid near the bottom and covered with loose stones no bigger than an egg. When the trench is completely filled with loose stones the ground water, instead of soaking into the roadway, will stop among the stones and flow down hill through the pipe.

To keep a road smooth and crowned the best method is to drag it with a road drag. A road drag is made easily with two halves of a log which has been split. The log should be about six or eight inches thick and six or eight feet long. The two halves of the log are set three feet apart with the smooth faces forward and upright. They are then fastened together with braces set in holes bored through the log. A pair of horses may be used to drag the road and are hitched to a chain fastened to the front half of the log. The road drag should move forward so that it will slant across the road in such a way that a small amount of earth will slide past the smooth face of the log toward the center of the road, thus forming a crown. The edges of the logs will smooth out the ruts. The best way to drag is to begin at the side ditch and go up one side of the road and then down the other. In the next trip the drag should be started a little nearer the center and the last trip over the road the drag may work close to the center itself. Small ridges of earth will be thrown in the horse track and smeared by the round side of the log smoothly over the road. The smearing of the earth by the drag is called "puddling" and tends to make the surface of the road smooth and watertight after the sun comes out. The road is always dragged after it has rained and not when dry. A good, strong pair of horses with a well-built drag can drag three or four miles of road in a day, and it is the best way to maintain good roads. In every county some farmer along each four miles of road should own a drag and drag the road when it rains, and he would always find the road in good condition when he goes to market.

ALFALFA ANALYZED

Plant Draws Heavily Upon Mineral Substances Necessary for Its Growth.

The adaptability of the alfalfa plant to various conditions of soil and climate renders it of great importance to Illinois farmers. Alfalfa thrives best on soil well supplied with carbonate of lime, but a deficiency of calcium carbonate is not the only factor which limits growth and yield of the crop.

It is rumored that the composition of any crop, so far as the mineral elements are concerned, does not represent the amount of the different substances the plant may have assimilated from the soil during its growth, for it has been clearly demonstrated by different investigators that considerable amounts of potassium, phosphorus and nitrogen are removed by rain and dew. The amounts which are removed from the soil, however, will be fairly well represented by the composition of the plant if the samples of the crop are taken at the time of harvesting.

Under direction of Prof. C. G. Williams of the agronomy department of the Ohio agricultural experiment station, the analysis of the alfalfa plant shows that nitrogen is present in the largest amount, followed by potassium, calcium, magnesium, sulphur and phosphorus. This station's analysis determined the fact that a 6,000 pound yield of alfalfa hay contains 163 pounds of nitrogen, 17 pounds of phosphorus, 99 pounds of potassium and 90 pounds of calcium.

Alfalfa being a deep feeder obtains a considerable portion of its mineral nutrients below the range of most other plants. When it has once established itself this is a means of increasing to some extent the phosphorus and potassium content of the upper soil stratum. Although when growing under conditions favorable to the development of the organisms which gather nitrogen from the air it increases the nitrogen supply of the soil, the fact must not be lost sight of that it draws heavily upon the mineral substances which are necessary for its growth. Phosphorus, potassium and calcium especially are removed in larger amounts by an average crop of alfalfa than by any other farm crop, hence it is readily apparent that these elements must be supplied, either naturally or artificially thru the soil medium for the plant to attain its maximum development. It is also readily apparent that, if crop after crop of this valuable forage is removed from the land and no provision made for the return of the plant food assimilated by the plant, although there is an increase in the nitrogen supply of the soil, there will be a rapid depletion of some of the other essential constituents of the soil.

Crops Must Be Fed.

The Illinois Farmers' Institute is urging the farmer to grow more alfalfa, grow and feed more live stock and practice a well balanced agriculture, but at the same time it wishes to impress upon him the fact that plants are not made out of nothing; that to grow maximum crops of any kind they must be fed the kind of food essential to their development, and this basic fact is as fundamentally true as are the fundamental facts of mathematics. If each acre of land prepared for alfalfa receives 1,000 pounds of rock phosphate and two tons of ground limestone, and this treatment is repeated every four years, a splendid interest on the investment will accrue, and the land will be made richer instead of poorer as the years go by.—H. A. McKeene, Secretary, Illinois Farmers' Institute, Springfield, Ill.

WHERE OATS FAIL

Drouth Following Delayed Oats Seedling Means Practical Failure—Soy Beans Will Yield Profitable Crop of Grain for Forage on This Land.

Thousands of acres of land that has been given to oats in Central and Southern Illinois will produce very little this season on account of the drouth following a wet spring and a delayed seeding, unless the farmer has forethought, the time and facilities for preparing the land and planting it to soy beans.

Soy beans may be planted safely at any time before (or even after) the middle of June and will mature the seed; they will yield a profitable crop of grain or forage on land where the oats give promise of failure.

For Hay or Grain.

For hay the following varieties are recommended: Mammoth Yellow, Hollybrook, Austin, Wilson and Keeling. For grain, the Peking, Sable, and Kingston are the best yielders in the order named. Well cured soy beans for seed have been selling at $2.50 per bushel and the seller turns soil for inoculation.

Seeding.

For grain, seed with the drill, using the middle and two end hoes of the 9-hoe drill and the second and sixth of the 8-hoe drill; and give three shallow cultivations.

For hay, broadcast at the rate of from 70 to 90 pounds per acre and harrow in, or seed 40 to 50 pounds per acre through all the hoes of the drill, or harrow as much through every other hoe—the quantity depending upon the size of the seed. Seed should not be planted too deep; an inch and a quarter is the greatest depth that is safe, and 3- to 1 inch is usually deep enough, except in sand.

Inoculation is very important and the materials as well as instructions may be obtained where the seed is purchased.

Experiment station tests show that soy bean straw produces milk more cheaply than stover, that an acre of soy beans made nearly three times as much meat as an acre of corn fed to steers, that corn fed pork cost $7.63 against $2.74 per 100 gain for soy beans, that soy bean hay equals alfalfa for milk production, is more valuable than tankage for pork making and than oats for lambs.—H. A. McKeene, Secretary, Illinois Farmers' Institute, Springfield, Ill.

DEKALB MAY LOSE ITS STATE MILITIA COMPANY

DeKalb Chronicle: DeKalb is in great danger of losing Company A of the Third Regiment unless some strenuous measures are taken to save the detachment for this city. It is reported here that recommendation has been made to the governor to have the company mustered out on account of the failure of the young men of this city and vicinity to belong to it. If Company should be taken out of the service and the seat of the division of the Third regiment removed from DeKalb this would mean that the Third Regiment band would also be taken from the city as it would be impossible to retain the band where there was not a detachment of the militia.

Unused Doors.

With slight trouble and small expense an unused door may be most advantageously converted into a bookcase by having a carpenter set up a vertical board on each side of the door-jamb and upon these boards—to the saving of the door-frame itself—nail the cross-piece upon which the bookshelves are to rest. Then have your woodwork painted or stained to match the door behind it, and hang a curtain of canton flannel, denim, or a more ornamental and servicable material from a rod fastened just inside the door-jamb, if the recess be good and deep; if shallow, as the door-settings are apt to be in our newer houses, have the rod fastened across the outside of the door-recess. A door thus treated will accommodate a surprising number of books.

Councilman of East St. Louis, Ill., Confesses and Accuses Five Colleagues.

EX-MAYOR HANDLED MONEY

Swears That He and City Fathers Were Given Two Sums of $3,000 Vote for Interurban Traction Franchises.

St. Louis, June 28.—Joseph A. Fansler, a former member of the East St. Louis (Ill.) city council, confessed that he and others were guilty of bribery.

The confession was made in the presence of Charles Webb, state's attorney of St. Clair county, Illinois, and a reporter for a St. Louis newspaper, and was sworn to before a notary public.

The confession came within a few days of a statement by State's Attorney Webb that he would lay any evidence of municipal irregularities before the grand jury which will meet in September and that he was prepared to offer immunity to any guilty person who should aid the state in securing convictions.

Two Alleged Bribery Acts Told.
 The confession of Fansler details two alleged acts of bribery—the payment of $3,000 for a franchise granting the East St. Louis Interurban Railway company the right to lay tracks on certain streets of the city and the payment of $3,000 for a franchise granting the Alton & Southern the right to cross certain streets.

Six members of the city council shared in the division of the first $3,000, according to the confession, and four members in the division of the second $3,000. Both bribes were paid in 1912, it is charged.

Charles S. Lambert, former mayor of East St. Louis, is named in the confession as the man who is alleged to have handed one of the councilmen $1,500 of the Alton & Southern bribe money, which was refused as insufficient. Lambert, it is said, went to John L. Flannigan, then counsel for the railway company and later corporation counsel of East St. Louis, and got from the latter the run $3,000 bribe money.

In Under Another Indictment.
 The written confession of Fansler, it was stated, was preceded by an oral confession. At that time, it is stated, Fansler gave a detailed account of the boodle transactions.

Fansler, who made the confession, already is under indictment in another case. He is charged with obtaining money by fraud from an East St. Louis money-lender.

NURSES DUEL; BOTH DEAD

Bodies of New York Women Are Found in Hospital Room.

New York, June 28.—A fight to the death in the dark between two women nurses is believed to have preceded the finding today of their bodies in a room of a branch of the Montefiore Home for Chronic Invalids at Bedford Hills, Westchester county.

The victims are Miss Rosalie Roque, a Canadian, and Miss Catherine Lacy, her cousin, who had nearly sleeping apartments.

It is thought that Miss Roque left her own room carrying a revolver, the shells for which were found in her trunk with one loading gone, and crossed to Miss Lacy's room. It was then that the two women fought to the death.

NEW USE FOR PHONOGRAPH

Ingenious Housewife Devised Plan That Kept Maid in the Straight and Proper Path.

A Brooklyn clubwoman who was going out of town for a few days was in a quandary over the problem of her husband's existence during her absence. The maid was Swedish and could neither read nor write English, yet she somehow must be told each day, as only the mistress could tell her, what should be done about the house. A moment's thought solved the problem. A list of each day's duties was made out. Next, a phonograph dealer was called up and instructed to send up a half dozen blank records. The ingenious mistress then sat down in front of her machine and dictated her orders, using one record for each day's instructions. The records were then placed in their pasteboard cases, and the days on which they should be used were indicated on the outside by one, two, three and four straight lines, making a mistake impossible. As a result not only was everything in perfect order upon her return, but the novelty had so appealed to the maid that she had "played" her orders over and over until she could repeat them word for word.

Chicago, June 28.—Many deaths and prostrations were caused by the torrid heat wave that is sweeping over the middle west. Crops are endangered and business is dropping off. It is not a heat wave. It is a heat invasion. Weather Forecaster Henry J. Cox was careful to emphasize that fact. "There is no relief whatever in sight," he said. "The intense heat will continue throughout the middle west for several days."

Death Above Twenty-Five.

More than twenty-five were killed by the heat in cities within a few hundred miles of Chicago. In all directions. In Chicago alone nine deaths were attributed to the heat. Prostrations were so numerous that the counting of them ceased about sunset.

Temperature of 100 degrees were reported from many sections.

The coolest place shown on the weather map was Duluth, Minn., where the highest temperature was 62.

Chicago lay helpless under the breath of a heat wave which caused nine deaths, scores of prostrations, and an uncounted number of cases of semi-prostrations.

The maximum temperature downtown was 96 degrees, official.

Two Die in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, June 28.—Two persons were killed and nearly a score prostrated by the heat. The maximum temperature here was 100 degrees on the street.

Kansas City, Mo., June 28.—Missouri and Kansas sweltered. The temperature here reached a maximum of 95 degrees, but a brisk breeze prevented any prostrations. So intense is the heat in Kansas that many harvest hands are quitting their jobs.

South Bend, Ind., June 28.—Thermometers here registered as high as 101 at 4:30 p. m.

Gary, Ind., June 28.—An unidentified man about thirty years of age died here following his prostration by the heat.

St. Louis, June 28.—Three men and a woman were overcome by the heat in St. Louis and near-by towns, when the mercury reached 98.

Newark, O., June 28.—William Cramer, an Ohio electric lineman residing here, was overcome by heat while at work on a pole on Main street. This is the fourth prostration of the season, one of whom died.

Ottawa, Ont., June 28.—Abraham Maloof of Boston dropped dead in a branch of the Bank of Ottawa. This marks the first victim of heat prostration this summer here. He left a widow at Boston.

St. Paul, Minn., June 28.—Patrick Whalen is dead, two others are in the hospital and another deranged is being sought by the police as the result of the heat.

Milwaukee, June 28.—William Teerick, employed in an undertaking parlor, was overcome by heat and died almost instantly. The police report sixteen prostrations.

John A. Dix, former governor of New York, has been suggested to the president by Senator O'Gorman as a good man for the post of governor general of the Philippines.

SHIP EXPLODES; 5 DIE

Blast in New York Leaves Six Injured.

Victims Rescued Unhurt—Bodies Are Seen Floating in Vessel.

New York, June 28.—Five persons killed, six injured and dozen are missing as result of explosion of two hundred tons of oil on the tank steamer Mohawk, owned by the Standard Oil company. The explosion occurred off Tompkinsville, in New York bay.

The bodies were seen floating in the hold while fireboats were still pouring streams of water into the wrecked steamer. The other victims probably were blown to pieces.

Carelessness of a machinist's helper was reported to have caused the explosion. Fifty men, including the crew and twenty machinists, who were making repairs preparatory to the Mohawk's departure for Tuxpan, Mex., were on board.

A helper was declared to have dropped a washer into the hold below the fire room. Seeking to recover it, he is believed to have carried a lighted candle, which caused combustion among gases generated in the hold.

The explosion was heard for many miles. A 200-foot flash of flame, a column of smoke, the detonation, a volcano of debris and the Mohawk settled aft, while fireboats, wrecking tugs and other harbor craft hurried to the scene.

A score of men who were blown overboard were rescued unhurt from the water. Others clung to stanchions and rails or huddled in the bow, whence they were dragged to safety on boats.

After several hours' hard work the fire was under control, and the crew returned on board and began pumping out the vessel. The stern was completely under water, but it is believed the steamer can be got into dry dock for repairs.

Eighty-Six Additional Deputy Revenue Collectors to Help Gather Income Tax.

Washington, June 28.—Wielding the ax again on the tariff revision bill for the benefit of the household, the senate Democratic caucus last night determined to put cotton sewing thread on the free list. This action followed a spirited debate and was carried by one vote over the protest of members of the finance committee, who defended the 15 per cent. duty in the bill as it passed the house.

Following the action there were reports current that members of the committee would insist upon reopening the matter today when a larger number of senators will be present.

All the amendments to the cotton schedule suggested by the committee except one were adopted, including the increases on yarns. One amendment which provided a 30 per cent. duty on cotton goods, which contain thread interwoven by means of lapsels, swivel and other attachments to form figured or fancy effects, was stricken out, leaving such goods to carry the duty on the yard content only.

Senator Simmons, chairman of the committee, said after the late adjournment that he hoped to have the bill through the caucus by Monday night. It then will go to the full finance committee, and probably be reported Wednesday or Thursday.

The majority of the committee agreed upon an administrative amendment to the income tax section, providing for 86 additional deputy collectors of internal revenue and other additional employees necessary to carrying out the terms of the section. The estimated cost of collecting the income tax is fixed at $1,200,000 a year.

All agricultural amendments proposed by finance committee Democrats were approved by the caucus, including the countervailing duty on wheat and flour, and the question was on enlarging the scope of the proposed amendment.

The amendment to compel payment of full revenue duty on brandies used in fortifying sweet wines was returned to the finance committee for suggested changes. Opposition to the proposal was aroused among California wine producers.

Divorced From Socialist Leader.

St. Louis, June 28.—Mrs. Loretta Ayers Ward obtained a divorce in the circuit court here from William A. Ward, who was Socialist candidate for governor of Missouri last fall. The divorce was granted on the ground of desertion and nonsupport.

HAPPY MARRIED LIFE

LIVES OF MEN OF NOTE BRIGHTENED BY WEDLOCK.

Numerous Instances Where Loving Wives Have Added to the Attractions Which Earth Has Offered to Her Gifted Sons.

When Frederick Morel, the writer, was told that his wife was at the point of death, he did not throw down his pen, but remarked:

"I am very sorry. She was a good woman."

"Might I have had my own will," said Montaigne, "I would not have married Wisdom herself."

But in spite of these and numerous other instances, there have been men of literature who could write of conjugal fruition from an experience extending through unclouded, beautiful years.

Sir Walter Scott, in his marriage relations, was happy, and Southey lived in sweet peace, not only with his first wife, but also with his second. Cowper enjoyed matrimony, and Moore was happily mated, and Shelley's second marriage was the entrance upon a joyous period of domestic life.

Wordsworth had many years of gladness with his wife, and Prof. Wilson was well married, and Dr. Johnson, who was 21 years younger than his wife, "continued to be under the illusions of the wedding day till the lady died, in her sixty-fourth year." Numa, who so unlike all the other kings of early Rome, since he was a sort of poet, holding company in still retreats with the muses—this Numa had a sweet wife of the name of Titia, who "was partaker of his retirement and preferred the calm enjoyment of life with her husband in privacy, to the honors and distinction in which she might have lived with her father at Rome."

There was Plutarch, also, whose days in marriage were all of the brightest. He named his only daughter after his wife, in attestation of his fond admiration of and his tender devotion, throughout all his manhood, to that wife.

In a beautiful epistolary portrait of his Trinoxena, he represents her as being far above the general weakness and affectation of her sex, as having no passion for the expensiveness of dress or the parade of public appearances.

The world does not know all the happy homes in it; out of the doors of which there do come, at one time and another, manuscripts of thought or of sentiment which thrill the living race.

In a right match, books and learning do no more divide husband and wife than do beautiful children, or a pleasant journey, or a new house all paid for.

Beautifully have passed away the lives of pairs, the marriage of whose hearts was contemporaneous with the marriage of their minds.

When the wife of Plautus died, it is said that he threw himself upon the lifeless bosom and breathed no more. He could not endure existence separated from that helpmeet, so devotedly loved, so devotedly loving.

Pliny said that on the death of his wife, "study was his one relief."

Historians, painters, sculptors, musicians, poets, statesmen, philosophers—these have become famous; but who has told how far their triumphs were owing to the noiseless influence of their wives?—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"Mechanical Horse" Used Abroad.

A real "mechanical horse" is being experimented with abroad. It is a "tractor," that is easily hitched to any horse-drawn vehicle, just as a team of horses may be, and combines all the advantages of the horse with those of the auto truck at an exceedingly low price. The outfit comprises a steel bar and coupler and sprocket wheels designed to be attached to the wheels and tongue of the wagon. There is only one wheel on the "horse," and that is at the front, the most of the support for the tractor depending upon the front wagon wheels by which it is driven. The engine, mounted under the front hood as in an automobile, is of forty or fifty horsepower, and drives the wagon at a speed of from eight to thirty miles an hour, the latter speed only being used when it is designed for fire engine service. The front wheel is used to steer by, and it allows a turn being made at an angle of eighty-five degrees, thus giving remarkable turning ability in narrow streets. One of the greatest advantages of the "mechanical horse" is the fact that it may be kept constantly at work while unloading or loading is going on.

Made Village Famous.

"Did you ever hear of the village Obersalzbrunn in Germany?" writes a correspondent from Dresden to Die Buhne. "Probably not. Gerhart Hauptmann was born there, but even that fact could not have made the name of the place well known. It rested with the little local government to bring the name of the place to notice and now it will always be remembered. When Hauptmann celebrated his fiftieth birthday some of the citizens wanted the village to present to its distinguished son a birthday gift. But the proposition, although it involved a ridiculously small sum, was voted down, and Obersalzbrunn has become famous. What the cobbler Voigt did for Kopenick the thrifty village fathers did for Hauptmann's home."

HUSK THE RICE BY HAND

Methods in Use in Burma Are Susceptible of Improvement, According to American Ideas.

The most popular method used by the Burmese for husking rice is by the "chike-set" or revolving mill, which is worked by hand. This mill is made of woven bamboo. The lower half is stationary, with a cone shaped head of hardwood and bamboo extending within the upper half, which revolves around this cone when pushed backward and forward by means of the handle. Hard bamboo twigs extending crosswise in the upper portion husk the rice against the cone. Between the two sections is a small opening through which the rice falls into a plate or basket.

The other method is by a wooden mortar, the pestle consisting of a block of wood at the end of a heavy bar working on a lever, which is raised and lowered by the weight of the operator's body as he steps on and off the further end of the bar. These machines are manufactured locally.

There is no doubt a considerable market in Burma for small rice machines capable of handling two hundred baskets per day of twelve hours, costing c. 1. f. Rangoon about $50. The basket is the unit of measure in the rice trade of Burma and consists of forty-seven pounds unhusked rice or seventy-five pounds cleaned white rice. The machine must be provided with separators and three outshoots, i. e., for white rice, coodie and husk.

Cross-Eyed Gunner.

There is a cross-eyed man in Cleveland who is an enthusiastic trap shooter. Furthermore, he is an expert. His record is a thing to be proud of. One day last autumn a nervous friend ventured to question him thus:

"You are so horribly cross-eyed that I don't see how you are able to shoot straight."

"I'll tell you my secret. I squint along the left barrel with my right eye, and I squint along the right barrel with my left eye—"

"Yes?"

"And then I fire both barrels!"

Potpouri of Peoples.

In this most cosmopolitan of cities (Buenos Aires) the foreigners foregather in little worlds of their own. Most are represented by newspapers published in their own languages, most have clubhouses more or less pretentious.

On the same evening one season recently "The Merry Widow" was produced in Spanish, French and Italian in as many different theaters. And there are all sorts of places of amusement where foreigners can enjoy themselves each after his own fashion—from an immense artificial skating rink (a very fashionable resort by the way) to a tropical coffee house, from a golf or race course to a poolroom or bowling alley, from the most attractive and elegantly equipped of modern cafes to a little French domino parlor or German beer saloon, from a magnificent opera house to a cheap vaudeville or moving picture theater.—From "Through South America," by Harry W. Van Dyke.

Facts in Nature

FOR centuries it has been known that Nature's most valuable health giving agents for the cure of disease are found in our American forests. Over forty years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y., used the powdered extracts as well as the liquid extracts of native medicinal plants, such as Bloodroot and Queen's root, Golden Seal and Stone root, Cherry bark and Mandrake, for the cure of blood diseases. This prescription as put up in liquid form was called and has enjoyed a large sale for all these years in every drug store in the land. You can now obtain the powdered extract in sugar-coated tablet form of your medicine dealer, or send five one-cent postage stamps for trial box to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and tablets will be mailed, postage prepaid.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, red blood, invigorates the stomach, liver and bowels and through them the whole system. Skin affections, blotches, boils, pimples and eruptions—result of bad blood—are eradicated by this alterative extract—as thousands have testified.

BLACK LETTERS AND WHITE

Former is Better Because It Can Be Read at a Greater Distance Than the Latter.

There is a tendency on the part of railroads to adopt signs with white letters on a black background, not realizing that the black letter on a white background is easier to read and can be seen at a greater distance. This follows in an interesting way from the structure of the retina of the eye.

The impression of a letter at the limit of vision is received on the ends of a small bundle of nerves which convey to the brain a sort of mosaic impression. A nerve can only transmit to the brain information as to whether or not a ray of light is falling upon it, and when a nerve is partly in the light and partly in darkness the sensation is the same as though all of it was in the light.

It follows, therefore, according to the Scientific American, that all nerves on the dividing edge between any black and white area transmit the sensation of light so that all white lines and white areas appear wider and all black lines and black areas appear narrower than they really are.

Black letters grow thinner at the limit of vision and are still recognizable, while at the same distance white letters grow thicker and cannot be distinguished. There are circumstances when it is necessary to use white letters, but in such cases legibility will be improved if they are made with a thin stroke and strongly lighted. Black letters are more distinct if made with a heavy stroke.

Here we are again with a new series of stock.
